

THE GAS CAN

GTO ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA
VOLUME 4 ISSUE 9 APRIL, 1983

LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT A.J. (Tony) Bastien

Hello Goat fans! Do we ever have a surprise for you! Pontiac's going to re-introduce the GTO as an option on the compact J-cars!

These red-striped "tire burners" will sport the newly developed "half-six" three cylinder "V-3" motor as standard equipment. A five-speed automatic transmission will handle the torque transfer chores, and Pontiac claims the new "Great One" will outperform the Chevy Chevette, this, of course, once they figure out how to keep the quadrajet from literally drowning the ridiculous little three-banger.

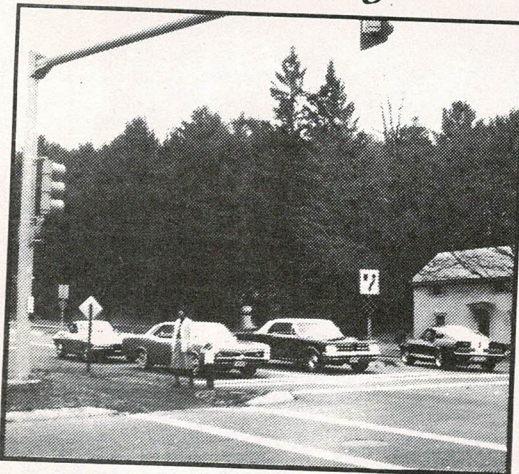

Wow!!, okay, so I didn't get to play any April fool's jokes on anybody, and you're it! Sorry I blew up, sigh of relief, whew!, no J-car GTO, no half-six, thank God! (knock on wood).

Anyway, we do have a REAL surprise for you. A new editor for the Newsletter. Come July, Paul Zazarine will take over as "Gas Can Boss Man". Paul is a highly accomplished GTO enthusiast and automotive writer. His GTO articles are regularly featured in National automotive publications such as Classic Sixties, Car Exchange and Old Cars Weekly. Paul is currently working on a GTO restoration book scheduled for publication later this year. Well, Paul's already gearing up for the job, you can expect some changes in newsletter content and format, for one, he'll do something to streamline the classifieds, which are currently threatening to totally engulf the newsletter, in any event, this is a nice surprise, isn't it?

In other news, please note that Tom Cahill, our Vice President-International meets has a new phone number, its (317) 787-1896. And talking about International Meets, we'll be needing some meet volunteers this year, to act as judges, Meet control assistants, and at least six GTO pace cars to guide the goat herd around the Indy 500 race track. The Meet volunteers will get to purchase staff t-shirts for $3.00, and should be able to make it to Indianapolis on the day before the meet for briefing and assignment of duties. If you're interested, give me a call at (406) 586-0000, or write Tony Bastien, President, GTO Association of America, P.O. Box 1734, Bozeman, MT 59715.

Also, please remember to complete Paul Zazarine's survey (see page 4, last month's newsletter), this survey is for Association Officers as well, the survey generated a tremendous response, but no staffers have sent theirs in yet! (Well, after Paul told me this, I felt guilty of non-participation (or something like that) and sent mine in) do it to it, it's a neat survey, and should be very helpful in determining where the interests of you, the Goat Clubbers, lie.

And, I received a copy of the Ames Performance catalog, like merry Christmas for your Goat, if you don't have one, you should, this is a very comprehensive catalog, well worth the $2.00 price.

Well, in closing, I'd like to remind you that its almost Goat Meet time! Only two months left. Check the classifieds under Miscellaneous and Information Exchange for Meet caravans and convoys. See you on July 2nd at the Indy 500 "Brickyard".

T.V. GOATS by Paul Zazarine

For years now, Mopar lovers have enjoyed watching the General Lee fly through the air and drift through dusty country road turns with nary an apparent bump or scratch. (of course, we know better; they waste three Chargers per show).

GTO lovers on the other hand, have had to suffer with an occasional glimpse at a GTO here and there (Barreta, Rockford Files, Chips). So you can imagine how thrilled I was when I saw a new show in march called "High Performance". There it was, a yellow 1966 GTO!!! Ok, so the paint scheme was different and the wheels were kinda blaa, but it was still a GTO. Last week (3/23) the show opened with the GTO being maneuvered through figure eights and other hot dog handling stunts. The photography lingered on those lovely lines as the car swooped through the maneuvers. I should have known it was an omen.

Later on in the show, there's the three stars talking and loading up the trunk high in the mountains. They all pile in and head on down a mountain road. Cut to a shot of the CORRECT speedometer, surrounded by that beautiful wood veneer. Cut to the brake pedal (incorrect pad) being pumped in fear as the driver realizes his brakes are history. Cut to a rising needle on the speedo. Cut to panic-stricken faces, cut to useless brake pedal, cut to speedo, cut to GTO racing down twisting mountain road. Wow, this is excitement! How are they gonna get out of this one?

Well, I'll tell you how they got out of it. They jumped out and let that magnificent GTO go over a cliff, that's how!!!

The next few seconds are a blur. I know I fell out of my armchair from the SHOCK. I remember waking up on the floor, crying and whimpering that another GTO got wasted. Couldn't watch the end of the show, didn't give a hoot how it ended. My star had gotten knocked off in the first reel, and it was time to go.

I suppose I could rail along about how tragic it is to keep losing these types of cars. Or how serious a problem it is becoming. Production companies out in Hollywood who make these series don't seem to care that they are destroying potential collector cars, denying hobbyists one more car that could be saved. The hot lick out there in Never Never land is to destroy collector cars for the visual impact of the crash itself, and the added pathos of ending the career of many a fine car.

That GTO flying over the cliff finally brought to light one fact: there is no infinite supply of these cars from which to draw on. The message has to go out to the people in Hollywood: Stop destroying Collector cars!

And now, an IMPORTANT NOTICE:

When all of you GTOAA members bring your GTOs to the indy meet this July 2, (all of you are coming, right?) I would like to make arrangements with some of you to photograph your car. I will be open to all years and body styles, but they must be correctly optioned cars, with no modifications. Sometime during the course of the day on Saturday, I may be asking you to move your car to another spot in the infield so we can photograph it.

The photos are going to be used for one of three projects:

1. Illustrations are needed for a book that is being put together. Correct cars are needed for this project.
2. As you have read elsewhere in this issue, I will be taking over as Newsletter Editor come summer, and I want to photograph some cars for the newsletter.
3. The best four cars will be chosen by yours truly for a series of articles I will be doing for Classic Sixties on the GTO in the next year.

So there you have it. I hope that many of you have the opportunity to come to Indy this year with your GTO. It may just end up in print!

TROPICAL GTO

Well, talk about goats jumping off cliffs. Quite depressing unless you're talking about real mountain goats, of course.

On a lighter note, we received a short piece from Carey Rose, on the "Tropical GTO":

Recently, my wife Cindy and I went to the local pet shop in search of some extra fish for our aquarium. Browsing over the thousands available, I noticed some that really caught my eye. These fish were sleek, colorful, and very quick. I checked the tag to see what they were, and needless to say I was quite surprised to see they were called "GTO Tetras". There are many fish in the Tetra family, but I had never seen a Tetra GTO.

I asked the salesperson about this fish, and how it got its name, he didn't know, but said "It sounds like a car to me". "Yes", I agreed, it rings a bell with me too. We'll take a couple home with us".

GTO trivia like Carey's story just goes to show you the kind of influence our GTOs have had on the American Culture. It would be interesting to find out how the "Goat" radio stations came about. Member Bruce Fox tuned into WGTO while on a Florida trip, and one of our Oklahoma members organized a GTO event in conjunction with KGTO. The Great One lives on!

GTO Collection: I have finally decided to part with a few of my 15 GTO's (8-1964's, 4-1965's, 1-1966, 1-1967, 1-1969 Judge). Some are mint, some need TLC & some need a lot of restoring. Most of my great ones come with: no air conditioning, no power seats, no power windows, no rag tops, no power steering, no power antennas, no auto-transmissions, no wood steering wheels, no exhaust splitters, no spinner or spoke hub caps, no tilt wheels & no power vent windows. In other words, my cars don't wish they were Grand Prixes. I realize, to most GTO collectors, my GTO's are too plain, but just remember, mine are the Real GTO's that created the GTO legend on the streets like Woodward Ave. that your prissy cars are benefitting from. We will always have comfortable prissy cars coming from Detroit, but we will never see ground shakers like these early plain muscle cars, ever again. If your ideal GTO is similar to mine, I'd like to hear from you. I can't believe every GTO enthusiast is into prissy goats. Gerald Fancher, 9537 Lemona Ave., Sepulveda, CA 91343. Phone (213) 893-8872. (JUN 83)
